CITY OF KOKOMO

ART ON FIRE

Feel the heat as you watch art glass hand-ladled and rolled at Kokomo Opalescent Glass, America's oldest art glass company. In its original location since 1888, the factory has been making world-famous, hand-mixed sheet glass using the same techniques from its beginnings.

Stand mere feet away as molten glass is scooped from the 2,500-degree furnace and as artists make hand-blown art glass pieces.

Public factory tours are offered weekly, and days may vary. It is recommended you call ahead to reserve your tour time in advance for both families and groups. See Page 20 for details.

EXPERIENCE DOWNTOWN

Live music, festivals, local dining, eclectic nightlife, diverse shopping and art around every corner — you'll find it all in downtown Kokomo. Set against a backdrop of historic buildings and beautiful public spaces, the city center is home to unique experiences and tastes.

Local Flavor

Enjoy upscale, chef-inspired dining at Marble the Steakhouse, or a taste of Ireland at Cook McDoogal's Irish Pub. Or try other local favorites like The Foxes Trail, Missy's Family Restaurant or Main Street Café, serving up a variety of casual fare. Find delicious croissants and baked goods at Petite Patisserie Bakery and sandwiches and soups at the KDFM Market Store & Café made with locally sourced meats, cheeses and produce.

Discover

You'll find gently used classics at Chapter 2 Books, stylish outdoor and adventure apparel at P.F. Hendricks & Co., and both vintage and new toys at Kokomo Toys & Collectibles. Stop next door at American Dream HiFi for vintage vinyls and eclectic art.

NightLife

When the sun goes down, the party is just getting started at Sun King Brewing Co. and The Coterie.

COMMUNITY HISTORY

Community Heritage

Originally home to the Miami Indians, Howard County was formed in 1844 as the state's last named county. Settling here in 1840, David Foster established the county seat through a donation of 40 acres north of the Wildcat Creek. Named for the leader of the nearby Indian village, Kokomo was incorporated as a town in 1855 and a city in 1865.

For more history, visit Kokomo Early History Learning Center's website at KokomoEarlyHistory.org

ELWOOD HAYNES STATUE

History of Innovation

In the 1880s, discovery of natural gas in Howard County attracted manufacturing, commerce and people. Kokomo is home to numerous inventions and technological innovations, including stainless steel tableware and the first commercially successful gasoline-powered automobile, which inventor Elwood Haynes test-drove on July 4, 1894.
